DON'T SELL YOUR BOND

Your Liberty Bond—whether it is for $50 or $5000—is your savings. The longer you keep the bond, the more valuable it is going to be.

It does no good to Uncle Sam to subscribe to his loan and then sell the amount of your subscription. Many of us have strained ourselves to buy the bonds, and necessity may force some of us to get some of the money back. But the way to do this is not to sell a bond. Dishonest sharpers will take your bonds and give you, say, eighty dollars for the one hundred.

If you must have money, go to a reliable bank or broker. They will lend you ninety dollars on the hundred, and the interest on your bond will nearly pay the interest on the money they lend you. Then by paying the loan, you can have the bond back.

Uncle Sam's securities are making money for you while you hold them. Two years after the war ends they will be worth— it is estimated—$110. If the war ends in three years or under you will then be receiving six and a quarter per cent—on the safest investment in the world!

EVERY MAN HAS HIS DUTY

By Raymond S. Spears
of The Vigilantes

Every citizen is the guardian of his own share or portion of the National Honor. Upon him rests the duty, and sometimes the necessity, of performing some task or undertaking some feat that will cause him certain efforts and demand of him a definite sacrifice for the common good. If a man does not know what is within his power to accomplish, and what rests upon him to do, then he is ignorant of the fundamental requirements of his situation. His first public task is to discover his duty, and then he must do it.

It may be that the faithful performance of a single thing, oft repeated, may serve to redeem the pledge mere living is sufficient to prove against each individual. Thus the workman driving rivets in a ship's plates may be doing his utmost and his best; on the other hand, men living in the comfortable seclusion of study and theory, may very well discover that their portion can be done only by abandoning their comfortable and habitual lethargy for a daring and active life.

But the fact remains, that no man can neglect a national duty without peril to his own conscience, and perhaps to his own country. Consider the archer, in the old days, whose arrow, in the cloud of his fellows' missiles struck through to the heart of the opposing general—as when the unfamed hurler of a javelin, in the hosts of Sapor, found with his lance the liver of Julian, pagan emperor of the Roman Empire. Suppose that man had faltered in his strength or effort!

How often has a falsely made firearm failed the soldier? How often has a shell missed its billet? How far has individual human neglect restricted the success of the hosts of Civilization?

If any man or woman neglect his duty, who shall say what the cumulative effects will be down the centuries? See your duty, and do it!

MADERA PHYSICIAN A VALIANT SOLDIER

By permission of Senator and Mrs. Miller we publish the following letter from N. Robertshawe with the Battalion 5th Royal Welch Fusiliers in France, a particular friend of their son, Dr. Frank K. Miller, who is a prisoner of war, giving a very glowing account of the young man before he was captured. The letter:

B. E. F., May 13, 1918.

Dear Senator and Mrs. S. J. Miller: Madera, Pa.

I have not written before to you about Dr. Miller. We are hoping to hear that he was a prisoner of war, but no news has come through to us about him, and I am hoping that you have heard something from him personally. He was in the line on the day of the big attack, March 21st, and was with the battalion on the afternoon of March 23d. At the time he had a dugout full of wounded men and he was trying to look after them all. But the battalion was pushed back, and he was left at his own request with the wounded in the hopes that he might look after them if they were all taken prisoners of war. He certainly was very much liked by us all in the mess, and it was a real break to have to lose him. His heels were very sore with walking and I think he should have been out of line before he was taken. He could not have run far as many had to do. We were traveling quite 6 miles a day, which is fast traveling when our men were fighting all the time.

They did not give way until their flanks had been surrounded, then they started back about 4 p. m. on Saturday, March 23, and so fought a retiring action all the way until the advance was pulled up. We lost heavily but it was only to be expected. Now we have plucked up heart and nearly two months have gone by with hard fighting. We are still strong, and I pray that finally we shall see a successful and righteous peace. But for those who have lost dear ones the strain is terrible and I trust that consolation and strength will be given them to look through the darkness until a greater and better day shall come and we shall know the hidden purpose of all the sorrows and suffering of the world. Till then we live in faith knowing that what we believe is true. With deep sympathy, Yours very sincerely,

N. ROBERTSHAWE, C. F.,
Battal. 5th Royal Welch Fusiliers,
—Madera Hustler.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Board of Directors of the School District of Clearfield borough hereby gives notice that it will receive sealed bids up to 7 o'clock p. m. on the 9th day of July, 1918, for furnishing coal for the school year 1918-1919 at the following school houses in the borough of Clearfield:

KAISER WOULD LOVE TO HEAR ANTHEM CRITICISED

Americans who are inclined to criticize the "Star Spangled Banner" because they consider it too difficult to be sung, are advised to make a musical analysis of other national anthems, before condemning their own. For instance, it may surprise them to learn that the American National Anthem presents no greater vocal difficulties than does "Die Wacht Am Rhein," and none of the Kaiser's subjects appear to find the German anthem too difficult for patriotic rendition. As a matter of fact, both anthems call for the same vocal compass. Each has a range of one and one-fifth octaves, according to John F. Braun, Director of Community Singing, Speakers' Bureau, Committee of Public Safety.

Mr. Braun was arranging the musical program for a patriotic fraternal rally at Philadelphia, when the point was raised about some Americans finding it hard to sing the National Anthem. He sequenced that argument by exhibiting the score of both compositions. Henri Scott, the Metropolitan Opera star, who was present, demonstrated that the range was precisely the same, by taking the high and low notes of both anthems, with the "soft pedal," of course, on the excerpt from the German anthem. Mr. Braun is inclined to regard the objections made against the "Star Spangled Banner" as being somewhat in the nature of pro-German propaganda. He thinks it would please the Kaiser and his subjects to deprive Americans of the satisfaction and stimulus derived from possessing a thoroughly acceptable National Anthem.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

It Pays Its Way

The business man insists that his mechanical equipment shall faithfully discharge its duties and return fair interest on the investment. Whether it be a typewriter, an adding machine, a drill press or an automobile, he looks for efficiency expressed in terms of profit.

It is on this very practical basis that the Paige has qualified in the world of business. In competition with every other car on the American market, the Paige has repeatedly demonstrated that it is a preferred investment—a car worth every penny of its price and entitled to the fullest respect and confidence as an eminently practical utility.

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

The First Infantry Guns Weighed 75 Pounds

FOOT soldiers began to carry firearms about 1350, huge, clumsy guns weighing from 25 to 75 pounds.

Mere hand cannon, iron or copper tubes, they were leveled by a forked support, and fired at a touch hole.

With the invention of the wheel-lock arquebus, in 1517, the first self-firing gun, the musket, was a quick step.

Like the first guns, automobile tires, when Goodrich began to develop them, were crude, clumsy affairs, and it's a long, long road of improvement to the symmetrical—

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The history of the last twenty-two years of The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company is pretty much the history of pneumatic automobile tire.

But whether Goodrich was bringing forth America's first clincher tire, or America's first cord tire—

Goodrich built tires to but one end—SERVICE VALUE to the user—the worth of the tire to the motorist on his car and on the road in comfort, economy, dependability and durability, and mileage.

That is why the tire user to-day gets the utmost SERVICE VALUE in GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS.

Protects and Cleanses the Tender Skin

MANY toilet soaps are much too harsh for children's skins. The excess alkali removes the protective oils so that the skin chaps and chafes easily. Ordinary soaps, too, are not sufficiently cleansing to keep youthful skins healthy and wholesome.

MULE TEAM BO RAXO
Bath and Toilet Powder

gives both protection and real cleanliness because the Borax in BO-RAXO softens, soothes and sterilizes—and does what no soap can, cleanses the pores of all dirt and impurities.

Don't risk the use of ordinary soaps. Get a can of BO-RAXO and teach the children to use it. You, too, will find its rich, daintily perfumed lather wonderfully pleasing in toilet and bath.

ENTERTAINED PRISCILLA SEWING CLUB

The members of the Priscilla sewing club and their husbands motored to DuBois Thursday evening and were royally entertained by the men at the Logan House to an elaborate six course turkey dinner served at ten o'clock. The tables were tastefully arranged with cut flowers and American flags, and during the dinner course the Victrola and Edison furnished elegant music for the guests.

At a late hour after enjoying the elegant repast set before them they departed for their homes in cars admitting it was one jolly good time and through the courtesy and hospitality shown by Mr. Sloppy and his assistants it made the affair one not to be forgotten.

The following couples enjoyed this fine dinner: Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Curry, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. A. Sahn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Halford, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mohney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Hile, Mr. and Mrs. John Forsyth, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Bouton, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wrigley, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Smeat.

CELEBRATED FIRST WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A large number of the young friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans gathered at their home on William street last evening to assist Mr. and Mrs. Evans in celebrating their first wedding anniversary. A most enjoyable evening was the result and the presents received were sufficient to stock the infant ward in a children's home. Harry was called upon for a speech, but said that while he was unequal to the occasion and there was nothing doing this year, he hoped to be able to not only talk to them himself next year but have somebody to help him.

His remarks were greeted with cheers and it was unanimously decided to let him off this time and give him one more chance to make good.

ITALIANS WIN BATTLE BRITISH MAKE RAIDS

FRENCH TAKE OUTPOST NO GOLD FOR RUSSIA

(By United Press)

The Allies have won a great victory in Italy, Premier Orlando formally announced in the Italian Chamber of Deputies. Fresh successes by the Italians and the French and British aids in counter attacks have definitely turned the pendulum toward the entente, he declared. "It is now permissible," he said, "to state that the battle has been won." Renewal of the drive is expected but the ultimate result can hardly be changed in view of the strength of the Italian defenses and the superior strategy in offensive and defensive the Italians have gained.

The official statements today reported:

Italian front—Heavy fighting for Montello crest with advantage to the Italians. More than 1,000 prisoners were taken in operations by the Italians. On the lower Piave the Austrians have been unable to get the heavy guns across the stream.

Flanders—British raids and patrol operations netted a few prisoners. Casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

French front—German raids in Hautebraye and Alsace were repulsed; a German outpost at St. Maur was taken, including prisoners.

President Wilson is determined not to stage any premature show of helping Russia. While the President will hold out the fullest assistance toward Russia he will not be drawn into sending troops or gold or sanction Allied intervention until convinced that the move to be taken shall have a sweeping beneficial effect. A careful program has been planned which when launched promises complete success. It is known that he thinks that it should be held to await the outcome of the western front battle—probably in October. A statement of the administration's view will be issued soon.

VIENNA THROGGED WITH FOOD RIOTERS AND IDLE WORKMEN

(By United Press)

Vienna was still in the grip of disorder late last night, according to dispatches via Zurich today. Increase in the bread on, higher wages for work, reduced hours of labor and the exclusion of general peace was the cry of huge crowds that thronged the principal streets. Police interference was necessary to prevent rioting, and a proclamation was posted warning that severe punishment would be administered if the demonstrations continued. A dispatch from Amsterdam said that an attempt had been made to assassinate Emperor Karl. The place where the alleged attack is supposed to have occurred was not specified.

BRADFORD CHURCH ATTENDANTS WILL HOLD REUNION

The third annual reunion of old-time attendants at Bradford church will be held Sunday June 30th. The program provides services or exercises all day long and a large number of participants are expected.

Bradford church is one of the oldest and best known churches in this section and this idea of an annual reunion of former worshippers which resulted in the first reunion in 1915 is growing more popular with each recurring anniversary.

This year a determined effort is being made to have all living former pastors present and as a number have arranged to be there the success of the occasion is already assured.

The opening service of the anniversary will be held Saturday evening, July 29th, when Rev. O. M. Wilson, now a highly successful minister located in Ohio, and an old Bradford township boy, will preach.

All former attendants, their families and friends are invited to participate in these exercises.

CLINTON COUNTY VILLAGE WIPED OUT

Loganton, the peaceful summer resort village, nestled between the mountains 16 miles south of Lock Haven, where many individuals from the large cities find rest and recreation during the summer months and others seek renewed health by breathing in the fresh ozone from the high altitude, was almost entirely destroyed Wednesday afternoon by the fire demon.

Excepting the National bank, every business house, with two churches, more than a score of the finest homes in the town were laid waste, and a scene of sad desolation now prevails in the old village where the people were happy and contented. Many are now homeless, having lost not only dwellings, but in many instances all their belongings.

By actual count 41 homes and business buildings and 32 stables and barns were consumed by the conflagration which raged with the utmost fury for two and one-half hours before being checked by the new American-LaFrance pumper from Jersey Shore, after three-fourths of the village had been destroyed including all the finest buildings and homes.

Loss Estimated at $300,000. While it is next to impossible to ascertain the loss sustained by each business house and family, conservative estimates, based on the assessment of the real estate of the borough, and taking into account the stocks carried by the stores, place the total loss at between $275,000 and $300,000.

GILLILAND FAMILY REUNION

The Gilliland family held a reunion in the Clearfield Driving park yesterday which was participated in by the families of seven of the nine children of the late Edward I. Gilliland of Pottersdale, Karlhaus township.

Some forty or fifty members and friends of the family were present, and enjoyed a fine time not the least of which was excellent refreshments. The seven Gillilands present and represented were: Mrs. F. B. Evans, of Pottersdale; Mrs. A. B. Jones, of Jersey Shore; Mrs. Guy Barger, of Sewickley; Ralph, of Philadelphia; Bertram P. of LaJunta, Colorado; William E. and Frank S. of Clearfield.

In addition to the members of the family, Rev. I. P. Hawkins and two daughters of Curwensville, and Mrs. D. B. Schoonover, of Kylertown, were also present.

WIFE DESERTER GOES BACK TO UTICA

Deputy Sheriff Charles J. Kammerl of Utica, New York, left for that city this morning over the B. & P. to find having in charge George Barchi, a wife deserter who was arrested in Utica last week by Sgt. A. M. Gorman.

FIVE BILLIONS FOR CANNON AND SHELLS

(By United Press)

Washington, June 22.—The largest field artillery program in military history is provided for in the new fortification bill reported to the House today. The new artillery program, Representative Borland, chief of the fortification committee explained, indicated clearly that this country's military experts believe that the day of trench warfare are practically at an end and that war by movement is in prospect. The bill provided for an appropriation of $5,435,006, 000 and authorizes $5,300,466, 000 of this for mounted field cannons and ammunition.

CROWDER RULES WORK OR FIGHT VOCATIONS

Defines Occupations Which Are
Taboo For Draft Registrants
After July First

BARTENDERS AND CLERKS IN IT

Washington, June 22.—Instructions to draft boards were issued today by Provost Marshal General Crowder, explaining and amplifying the "work-or-fight" order, under which after July 1, all men of draft age, regardless of their classification, must be engaged in employment held to be productive, or join the army.

"When it has been determined that a person in deferred classification is an idler, or is engaged in non-productive service," says the instructions, "the classification and order number of such person will be withdrawn and he will be immediately inducted into the military service."

Clerks and Chauffeurs

Managers, cooks, clerks and other employees not engaged in the actual serving of food and drink in public places are exempted from the section declaring such service of food and drink non-productive. Store executives, managers, superintendents and heads of special departments, traveling salesmen registered pharmacists, delivery drivers and men doing heavy work are not included among the clerks and salesmen of mercantile establishments classed as non-productive.

Chauffeurs, "public and private," are eliminated from the non-productive class unless they engage in work held to be non-productive in addition to their mechanical duties. This feature of the instructions attracted attention because it would class, as useful, a family chauffeur who performed no other service, and would send him into the Army if he also acted as butler or handy man around the house.

The boards are directed to apply common sense in considering withdrawals of deferred classification privileges, and to aid registrants in making necessary changes in employment by furnishing lists of those summoned for examination to the United States employment service.

"The regulations further provide that passenger elevator operators and attendants, and doormen, footmen, valet operators and other attendants in clubs, hotels, stores, apartment houses, office buildings and bath houses, are engaged in non-productive employment. The word 'other' in attendants' include bellboys and also other persons, unless such persons are engaged in heavy work."

HOPE TO STIMULATE COAL PRODUCTION

A big meeting of miners and others engaged in stimulating the coal production throughout this region is scheduled for Philipsburg tomorrow afternoon and if the weather proves favorable an immense crowd of people will be present.

John P. White, member of the United States Fuel Administration, and ex-President of the U. M. W. of A., will be the chief speaker at the gathering.

A lieutenant and detail of regular army soldiers will be present and go through the army drill following the speech-making.

All who can possibly do so should attend this meeting.

AUTOED TO WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wrigley, Misses Margaret Wrigley and Dorothy Woodward and ex-judge Allison O. Smith left Thursday by automobile for Washington, D. C. The Wrigleys will visit their son and brother William W. Wrigley, who is in the U. S. Ordnance department. Miss Woodward will go from there to visit her fiancé, Lt. Stayman Rees at Camp Meade, while Judge Smith will be the guest of his son W. Wallace Smith, who is also located at Washington, while enlisted in the aviation department of the army. Judge Smith will also visit his daughter Mrs. James Gordon in Philadelphia before returning home.

CELEBRATED 20TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Quigley celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary last evening at their home on Doney street.

A number of their friends gathered at their home and helped them to commemorate the occasion.

Music, dancing and games were participated in by all and the evening proved to be one long to be remembered. At a late hour a delicious lunch was served. Dr. and Mrs. Quigley received a large number of gifts of china and linen.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Misses Mary and Margaret Waterworth gave a miscellaneous shower Thursday afternoon at their home on South Second street in honor of Mrs. Horace Lynn who before her recent marriage was Miss Margaret Johnson.

About twenty guests were present and the afternoon was delightfully spent in knitting.

Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Lynn received beautiful gifts of linen, silver and cut glass.

BRIDGE AND KNITTING PARTY

Misses Sara and Augusta Gaulin gave the second of a series of parties Thursday afternoon at their home on East Market street.

A number of tables of progressive bridge were in play during the afternoon while other guests spent the time knitting.

The house was artistically decorated with garden flowers. Late in the afternoon an excellent lunch was served.

FAREWELL FOR SOLDIERS

A farewell party was given at the home of George Page on the Ardary farm near Dimeleg, Friday evening in honor of George Page, Fred Royer, James Shimmel and Lloyd Serfridge, who are in the next National army contingent for Camp Lee.

There were about one hundred and twenty-five present and most enjoyable time was had. Delicious refreshments were served and at a scintillating hour all departed for their homes after wishing the boys all kind of good luck.

THE 305TH ARRIVED

The 305 Engineers, the Camp Lee contingent in which many Clearfield boys are serving, has arrived safely in France, and announced that fact having arrived in Clearfield yesterday.

GEN'L MARCH PRAISES JOHNSTOWN ARMY MAN

(By United Press)
Carl D. Groat

Washington, June 22.—The United States has crossed the 900,000 mark in troop shipment over-seas from American embarkation point.

We are now five months ahead of our regular schedule. The Germans are preparing a combative division preparing for another drive.

These important facts were announced today by General March, chief of staff, in his weekly newspaper conference. As for the general war situation he declared he can say again that the Central Powers are held but warned that the nation must expect a renewal of the German drive. He highly praised the Americans who shared in the present struggle, saying they have done well and delivered the goods. He especially praised the first regular division for its gallantry at Cantigny, the Rainbow Division under General Meneher, of Johnstown, and the 26th division. As for the Italian situation the General considers it a part of the whole western front battle and said that the Italians again held their positions. He declared that the Austrians had gained three substantial places sufficient to concern the Allies. The Austrians were overcome by the flood which swept the entire Austrian bridge system away. Seven temporary bridges have been built since then. The western front battle during the week was of only minor character without important military effect. Nine hundred thousand American soldiers are in France, including 12,000 Marines.

CLAIR KNEPP, OF CURWENSVILLE, A FORMER WOODLAND BOY, WOUNDED

(By United Press)

Washington, June 22.—General Pershing today reported 153 army casualties including 52 killed in action, 26 died of wounds, 10 died of airplane accidents and other causes, 37 severely wounded, 2 wounded, 17 missing in action, 1 prisoner. Clair W. Knepp, of Curwensville, was among the severely wounded.

Clair Knepp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Knepp and a former Woodland boy, though the family moved to Curwensville when he was quite young. He is twenty-six years old and one of the first men of this region to join the army. His letters have appeared in The Progress quite frequently. We all hope for his speedy recovery. A brother, William Knepp, is also with the A. E. F.

MARINE LIST SMALLER

Washington, June 22.—The Marine casualties reported today number 31, divided as follows: killed in action, 4; died of wounds received in action, 15; wounded severely, 12. H. Moon, of Elwood City, was among the severely wounded.

HALF HUNDRED CIRCUS PEOPLE KILLED IN RAILROAD WRECK

(By United Press)

At least 46 persons were killed early today when an army equipment train running at 50 mile an hour on the Michigan Central railway crashed into the Hagenback-Wallace circus train outside of Ivanhoe, Ind. A mix up in signals is believed to have been responsible for the crash. More than 100 were injured, many seriously. Thirty bodies have been brought to Gary and 16 are in a morgue at Hammond. Fire took hold of the wreckage and many of the bodies were charred beyond recognition. Others are believed to be hid in the debris. It is certain that practically all of the performers, including the stars, were killed or badly injured. Hospitals at Gary and Hammond are filled with the injured.

DON'T SELL YOUR BOND

Your Liberty Bond—whether it is for $50 or $5000—is your savings. The longer you keep the bond, the more valuable it is going to be.

It does no good to Uncle Sam to subscribe to his loan and then sell the amount of your subscription. Many of us have strained ourselves to buy the bonds, and necessity may force some of us to get some of the money back. But the way to do this is not to sell a bond. Dishonest sharpers will take your bonds and give you, say, eighty dollars for the one hundred.

If you must have money, go to a reliable bank or broker. They will lend you ninety dollars on the hundred, and the interest on your bond will nearly pay the interest on the money they lend you. Then by paying the loan, you can have the bond back.

Uncle Sam's securities are making money for you while you hold them. Two years after the war ends they will be worth— it is estimated—$110. If the war ends in three years or under you will then be receiving six and a quarter per cent—on the safest investment in the world!

EVERY MAN HAS HIS DUTY

By Raymond S. Spears
of The Vigilantes

Every citizen is the guardian of his own share or portion of the National Honor. Upon him rests the duty, and sometimes the necessity, of performing some task or undertaking some feat that will cause him certain efforts and demand of him a definite sacrifice for the common good. If a man does not know what is within his power to accomplish, and what rests upon him to do, then he is ignorant of the fundamental requirements of his situation. His first public task is to discover his duty, and then he must do it.

It may be that the faithful performance of a single thing, oft repeated, may serve to redeem the pledge mere living is sufficient to prove against each individual. Thus the workman driving rivets in a ship's plates may be doing his utmost and his best; on the other hand, men living in the comfortable seclusion of study and theory, may very well discover that their portion can be done only by abandoning their comfortable and habitual lethargy for a daring and active life.

But the fact remains, that no man can neglect a national duty without peril to his own conscience, and perhaps to his own country. Consider the archer, in the old days, whose arrow, in the cloud of his fellows' missiles struck through to the heart of the opposing general—as when the unfamed hurler of a javelin, in the hosts of Sapor, found with his lance the liver of Julian, pagan emperor of the Roman Empire. Suppose that man had faltered in his strength or effort!

How often has a falsely made firearm failed the soldier? How often has a shell missed its billet? How far has individual human neglect restricted the success of the hosts of Civilization?

If any man or woman neglect his duty, who shall say what the cumulative effects will be down the centuries? See your duty, and do it!

MADERA PHYSICIAN A VALIANT SOLDIER

By permission of Senator and Mrs. Miller we publish the following letter from N. Robertshawe with the Battalion 5th Royal Welch Fusiliers in France, a particular friend of their son, Dr. Frank K. Miller, who is a prisoner of war, giving a very glowing account of the young man before he was captured. The letter:

B. E. F., May 13, 1918.

Dear Senator and Mrs. S. J. Miller: Madera, Pa.

I have not written before to you about Dr. Miller. We are hoping to hear that he was a prisoner of war, but no news has come through to us about him, and I am hoping that you have heard something from him personally. He was in the line on the day of the big attack, March 21st, and was with the battalion on the afternoon of March 23d. At the time he had a dugout full of wounded men and he was trying to look after them all. But the battalion was pushed back, and he was left at his own request with the wounded in the hopes that he might look after them if they were all taken prisoners of war. He certainly was very much liked by us all in the mess, and it was a real break to have to lose him. His heels were very sore with walking and I think he should have been out of line before he was taken. He could not have run far as many had to do. We were traveling quite 6 miles a day, which is fast traveling when our men were fighting all the time.

They did not give way until their flanks had been surrounded, then they started back about 4 p. m. on Saturday, March 23, and so fought a retreating action all the way until the advance was pulled up. We lost heavily but it was only to be expected. Now we have plucked up heart and nearly two months have gone by with hard fighting. We are still strong, and I pray that finally we shall see a successful and righteous peace. But for those who have lost dear ones the strain is terrible and I trust that consolation and strength will be given them to look through the darkness until a greater and better day shall come and we shall know the hidden purpose of all the sorrows and suffering of the world. Till then we live in faith knowing that what we believe is true. With deep sympathy, Yours very sincerely,

N. ROBERTSHAWE, C. F.,
Battal. 5th Royal Welch Fusiliers,
—Madera Hustler.

KAISER WOULD LOVE TO HEAR ANTHEM CRITICISED

Americans who are inclined to criticize the "Star Spangled Banner" because they consider it too difficult to be sung, are advised to make a musical analysis of other national anthems, before condemning their own. For instance, it may surprise them to learn that the American National Anthem presents no greater vocal difficulties than does "Die Wacht Am Rhein," and none of the Kaiser's subjects appear to find the German anthem too difficult for patriotic rendition. As a matter of fact, both anthems call for the same vocal compass. Each has a range of one and one-fifth octaves, according to John F. Brown, Director of Community Singing, Speakers' Bureau, Committee of Public Safety.

Mr. Brown was arranging the musical program for a patriotic fraternal rally at Philadelphia, when the point was raised about some Americans finding it hard to sing the National Anthem. He sequenced that argument by exhibiting the score of both compositions. Henri Scott, the Metropolitan Opera star, who was present, demonstrated that the range was precisely the same, by taking the high and low notes of both anthems, with the "soft pedal," of course, on the excerpt from the German anthem. Mr. Brown is inclined to regard the objections made against the "Star Spangled Banner" as being somewhat stimulus derived from possessing a thoroughly acceptable National Anthem. He thinks it would please the Kaiser and his subjects to deprive Americans of the satisfaction and

The Most Beautiful Car in America

It Pays Its Way

The business man insists that his mechanical equipment shall faithfully discharge its duties and return fair interest on the investment. Whether it be a typewriter, an adding machine, a drill press or an automobile, he looks for efficiency expressed in terms of profit.

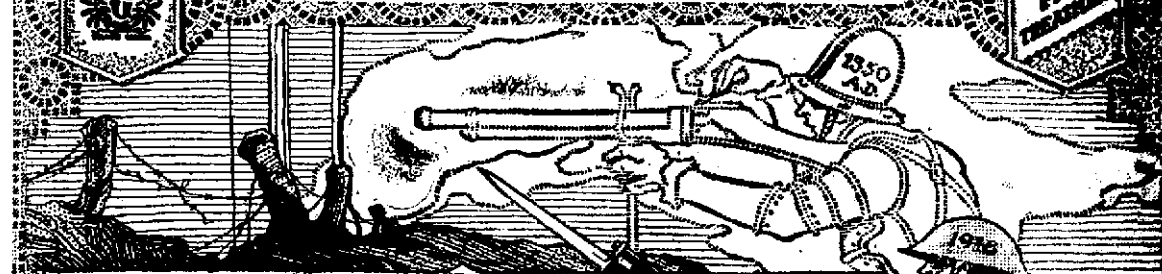

It is on this very practical basis that the Paige has qualified in the world of business. In competition with every other car on the American market, the Paige has repeatedly demonstrated that it is a preferred investment—a car worth every penny of its price and entitled to the fullest respect and confidence as an eminently practical utility.

The First Infantry Guns Weighed 75 Pounds

FOOT soldiers began to carry firearms about 1350, huge, clumsy guns weighing from 25 to 75 pounds.

Mere hand cannon, iron or copper tubes, they were leveled by a forked support, and fired at a touch hole.

With the invention of the wheel-lock arquebus, in 1517, the first self-firing gun, the musket, was a quick step.

Like the first guns, automobile tires, when Goodrich began to develop them, were crude, clumsy affairs, and it's a long, long road of improvement to the symmetrical—

News of OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Thomas Solley, of Grampian, and Miss Mary Katherine Beyer, of Tyrone, were married by Rev. L. P. Hawkins, of Grace Lutheran church, Friday, June 21st, 1918, at 10 o'clock.

A social was held in the Methodist church last evening, which, despite the inclement weather, was well attended and heartily enjoyed by all present.

John McLaughlin, one of Curwensville's oldest and most esteemed citizens, had the misfortune to fall, being taken with a dizzy spell, Wednesday, with the result of breaking his left wrist. He has the sympathy of his many friends.

Sixteen of Curwensville's young men have been selected and will go to Camp Lee next week to be prepared for the life of a soldier. There is not a slacker among the entire lot, but all are imbued with the one thought, "Let us get at the Hun as soon as possible. We will give a good account of ourselves to Uncle Sam." While there is no doubt their going will cause grief to parents, brothers and sisters, as well as sweethearts, let us who are compelled to stay on this side, use every effort in our power to soften their grief by kind words and acts, for if we only do that much we are doing some little bit for the soldier boy and our country. Let us stay-at-homes, who have grown too old for soldier life, deny ourselves at any and all times, to help those who have gone over the seas. Let us always bear in mind those words uttered by Gen. Pershing, as he stood looking at the tomb of Lafayette, "Lafayette, we are here."

Monday a general canvas of the town will be made for the sale of Chautauqua course tickets. In order to induce the children to attend, Mrs. Blanche Graham will give each one a bank, and when each possessor of a bank has earned 90 cents, and return the same to Miss Graham, together with from 1 to 10 cents war tax, each child will receive a full course ticket to Chautauqua. Now boys and girls get ready for the big free community rally, on the evening before the Chautauqua opens, rain or shine. Three big events, "Junior Patriotic Parade" starts at 6:30. There will be red, white and blue costumes and drums and fifes, Boy Scouts and everything that is patriotic. "Play Festival" in which there will be all sorts of games. "Ticket Hunt" to cap the climax there will be lots of fun when the big ticket hunt starts, for then there will be a chance for some kid to get a course ticket to Chautauqua free.

This is but the beginning of the good things in store for you during Chautauqua week at the big tent. There will be athletic events and games and stories and a real breakfast cooked in the woods over a real camp fire, Indian fashion. And on the last day of the Chautauqua there will be a grand Pageant of our Allies in which all the members of the Junior Chautauqua take part.

A Junior season ticket makes you a member of the Junior Chautauqua and entitled you to an official arm band. It admits you to everything after the Chautauqua opens and it costs only ONE DOLLAR plus war tax.

It is with deep regret that the announcement is made of the suspension of one of Curwensville's literary societies. We refer to the Civic Club. This was not only an organization for literary and musical purposes alone, but for the improvement of Curwensville and its surroundings, along aesthetic lines. That the club did much good there is no doubt. The only trouble was that the club talked of and proposed to do things for the betterment of the town and its people that was quite out of their power in a financial way to do. At the last election of officers, Mr. J. R. Bixler was elected to the presidency of the club, and in his remarks of acceptance told the members then and there that a change of doing some things would have to take place or the club would not exist six months longer. Another thing that caused the club to be unsuccessful was its castle building, and as one of the influential and interested members told the Progress man the other day "that the club was always advancing something that was an utter impossibility for its members to fulfill. Had they taken up one thing at a time within their power to accomplish and stuck to it until its completion, the town people a large would have felt more of a kindly interest toward the club's work and gave it all assistance in their power. But the way it was conducted those who could have helped and made the club a great benefit to the town, simply turned all their ill-timed projects down." Had the club been aided along the lines President Bixler wanted it conducted, the announcement of its failure to exist would not be made at this time. It is to be hoped that the club will soon reorganize and do business on a scale within the financial means at their command, and then we are sure people will awaken to the fact that something besides talk will be done for the benefit of the entire community.

In conversation with Mr. Tate, secretary of the board of health, we are able to make the statement that the board members are straining every point of the law in which to enforce an observance of the laws by which all nuisances and menaces to public health be removed by July 1st. A number of outbuildings have been torn away and removed from sight, by an order of the board. Some property owners have refused to obey the mandate and these people will be dealt with harshly if they do not get the health board orders. No member of the board is antagonistic to any property holder, but are determined to remove or have removed any unsightly buildings which are likely to create bad odors during the hot summer months. Most any reasonable man would only be too glad to assist in removing anything from his property that would create a disease or epidemic in the town. Everybody should have an equal interest in cleaning up the town from all filth and decayed debris, and if the town should be visited by an epidemic all would be equally guilty. Instead of some few careless or neglectful ones.

Keep it in mind. What? Why the five big patriotic days that will be in Curwensville, commencing June 28th and continuing until July 2nd. It will be known as Curwensville's community Chautauqua week and will be lined up by days as follows: 1st day, "Liberty Day" 2nd day "National Service Day" 3rd day "Inspiration Day" 4th day, "Community Music Day" 5th day, "All-American Day". Tickets now on sale.

WALLACETON

THE MICHELIN ORGANIZATION
MICHELIN users have sometimes wondered how it can be possible to sell Michelines at such low prices in view of the unsurpassed quality which is built into these tires.
The answer lies in the Michelin watchword: Economical Efficiency.
Ever since Michelin invented the pneumatic automobile tire 23 years ago, Michelin engineers and efficiency experts have studied means of producing and selling tires more efficiently.
Every expenditure that will result in better tires or service has been cheerfully made; but every expense that would not stand this test is scrupulously avoided.
Economical Efficiency has enabled Michelin to supply the motoring world with "better" tires for less money.

Places An Apex Electric Suction Sweeper in Your Home

Our special offer on this modern household utensil will close now in a few days. Will you go on sweeping in the dusty, old-fashioned way when this perfect machine is at your command?

CLEANS UNDER THINGS—AS WELL AS ALL AROUND THEM

The low, poking Apex nozzle goes under tables, radiators and heavy furniture—gets clear into corners—cleans stairways—cleans along mop boards and away into corners. The cleaner is so light and easy to handle it's a pleasure to operate it in cleaning all the most hard-to-reach places.

REMARKABLY EFFICIENT IN HANDLING DIRT COLLECTED

Another exclusive feature is that the inclined nozzle lets dirt and dirt just roll up the sloping pan—the suction is not forced "lift" it straight up. The powerful rush of air behind the dirt always of the same direction (strength) from the time it enters the nozzle until it reaches the top.

Exceptional Offer Closing July 1st.

You have your choice of two ways of paying for an Apex Electric Suction Sweeper. First. $35 cash. This is a saving as the price takes a material advance after July 1st. Second. An initial payment of $7.50 then payments of $5 monthly for six months until the price $37.50, has been paid.

The Apex Attachments

These attachments are very practical—and include a specially designed instrument for every purpose. They include as the picture shows:—Eight feet (vaid covered) rubber hose; One hard black fibre extension tube; One aluminum suction upholstery tool; One aluminum suction housing (with brush); One hard black fibre blower tube; One aluminum suction coupling; One aluminum blower coupling. All easy to attach, cleaning thoroughly wherever shaking, beating and dusting is undesirable.

Protects and Cleanses the Tender Skin

MANY toilet soaps are much too harsh for children's skins. The excess alkali removes the protective oils so that the skin chaps and chafes easily. Ordinary soaps, too, are not sufficiently cleansing to keep youthful skins healthy and wholesome.

MULE TEAM BO RAXO

gives both protection and real cleanliness because the Borax in BO-RAXO softens, soothes and sterilizes—and does what no soap can, cleanses the pores of all dirt and impurities.

Don't risk the use of ordinary soaps. Get a can of BO-RAXO and teach the children to use it. You, too, will find its rich, daintily perfumed lather wonderfully pleasing in toilet and bath.

ENTERTAINED PRISCILLA SEWING CLUB

The members of the Priscilla sewing club and their husbands motored to DuBois Thursday evening and were royally entertained by the men at the Logan House to an elaborate six course turkey dinner served at ten o'clock. The tables were tastefully arranged with cut flowers and American flags, and during the dinner course the Victrola and Edison furnished elegant music for the guests.

At a late hour after enjoying the elegant repast set before them they departed for their homes in cars admitting it was one jolly good time and through the courtesy and hospitality shown by Mr. Sloppy and his assistants it made the affair one not to be forgotten.

The following couples enjoyed this fine dinner: Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Curry, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. A. Sahn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Halford, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mohney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Hile, Mr. and Mrs. John Forsyth, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Bouton, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wrigley, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Smeat.

CELEBRATED FIRST WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A large number of the young friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans gathered at their home on William street last evening to assist Mr. and Mrs. Evans in celebrating their first wedding anniversary. A most enjoyable evening was the result and the presents received were sufficient to stock the infant ward in a children's home. Harry was called upon for a speech, but said that while he was unequal to the occasion and there was nothing doing this year, he hoped to be able to not only talk to them himself next year but have somebody to help him.

His remarks were greeted with cheers and it was unanimously decided to let him off this time and give him one more chance to make good.

Quietly Doing It Work

The other day a woman who has been a frequent visitor for the past several years came into the store to make various purchases.

In conversation with one saleslady, she remarked, "I don't know why it is, but I don't believe I could ever accustom myself shopping at another store. Sometimes I feel it is your advertisements, for I know they are truthful expressions of the merchandise, and besides reflect your store's character to a T."

We shall try our best to continue reflecting the individuality of this store in our advertisements; and as time wears on we know they will prove the most important factor in your buying schedule.
